GENERAL NOTES.—The areas of Parishes in the Isle of Man, which are reprinted from the Census Tables of 1881, were furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department in 1871, no re-survey since that date having taken place. The areas marked thus (w) either include water, or relate to parishes to which a portion of the tidal water or foreshore of contiguous rivers or creeks has been allotted. Such tidal water or foreshore is, however, not included in the areas.

In the population for 1891 are included 184 sailors and others, who, on the night of the 5th of April 1891, were on board vessels in the several harbours of the Island, and 1,264 fishermen (belonging to various parishes) who were engaged in the Irish Mackerel Fishery. For details, see Table 5. The military in the barracks at Castletown, numbering with their families 37 persons, are also included.

^a The decrease in the population of this part of the parish is attributed to depression in the fishing and agricultural industries.

^b The town of Peel was extended between 1881 and 1891, the part added, however, containing no population.

^c The town of Ramsey (the boundaries of which have been extended since the Census of 1881) is comprised partly in the parish of Lezayre and partly in that of Maughold; the entire town contains 966 inhabited houses and 4,866 population. The figures for 1881 and 1891 both relate to the enlarged area.

^d The decrease in the population of this part of the parish is attributed to the fact that the iron mines were not being worked at the time of the Census of 1881.

^e In the population of this part of the parish are included 95 persons in the Isle of Man Industrial Home for Orphan and Destitute Children.

^f The town of Douglas is comprised partly in the parish of Conchan and partly in that of Braddan; the entire town contains 3,012 inhabited houses and 19,525 population, the increase since 1881 being attributed to its growing popularity as a watering place and to the greater facilities of locomotion. In the population of the part that is in Conchan parish are included 95 persons in the House of Industry and 41 persons in the General Hospital.

^g In the population of this part of the parish are included 218 persons in the Lunatic Asylum.

NOTE.—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the one that appears to be of most importance; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the one first given by the person in his or her return. In some cases special rules have been followed. Thus a manufacturing trade has always been taken in preference to a selling trade; "Clergyman and Schoolmaster" in combination has always been referred to Schoolmaster.

The numbers given under any heading include Workmen, Assistants, Apprentices and Labourers, as well as Masters, but not Clerks, Porters, Messengers, Errand Boys, nor Watchmen, for which occupations there are special headings; Bank Clerks, Railway Clerks, and Insurance Clerks, however, form exceptions, being classed respectively under the headings "Bank Officials and Clerks," "Railway Officials and Clerks," and "Insurance Service."

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their deceased husbands or fathers, will be found under occupations commonly followed only by men and adults.

Persons returned as "retired" from any profession or business (excepting Army, Navy, Church, Medicine), have not been referred to their previous occupations, but to the special heading "Retired from Business"; inmates of workhouses have been referred to their trades, unless their age or infirmities showed they were past work. But persons who might be supposed to be only temporarily separated from their usual employment, such as Prisoners, and Patients in General Hospitals, have been classed under their stated occupations.

In some cases, for convenience of space, the male designation, e.g., "Schoolmaster" alone is given, instead of "Schoolmaster, Schoolmistress."

NOTE.—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the one that appears to be of most importance; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the one first given by the person in his or her return. In some cases special rules have been followed. Thus a manufacturing trade has always been taken in preference to a selling trade; "Clergyman and Schoolmaster" in combination has always been referred to Schoolmaster.

The numbers given under any heading include Workmen, Assistants, Apprentices and Labourers, as well as Masters, but not Clerks, Porters, Messengers, Errand Boys, nor Watchmen, for which occupations there are special headings: Bank Clerks, Railway Clerks, and Insurance Clerks, however, form exceptions, being classed respectively under the headings "Bank Officials and Clerks," "Railway Officials and Clerks," and "Insurance Service."

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their deceased husbands or fathers, will be found under occupations commonly followed only by men and adults.

Persons returned as "retired" from any profession or business (excepting Army, Navy, Church, Medicine) have not been referred to their previous occupations, but to the special heading "Retired from Business"; inmates of workhouses have been referred to their trades, unless their age or infirmities showed they were past work. But persons who might be supposed to be only temporarily separated from their usual employment, such as Prisoners and Patients in General Hospitals, have been classed under their stated occupations.

In some cases, for convenience of space, the male designation, e.g., "Schoolmaster" alone is given, instead of "Schoolmaster, Schoolmistress."

NOTE.—The minus sign prefixed to certain figures in the columns headed "Increase of Population" denotes a decrease instead of an increase in the population to the extent shown.

No return of the population of Alderney was made in 1821. In the returns of 1851 and 1861 there was a considerable increase of population, which was attributed to the Government works then in progress. In 1871 there was a decrease, which was attributed to the discontinuance of such works. There was a larger military force in the islands of Guernsey and Alderney in 1861 than in 1851.

NOTE.—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the one that appears to be of most importance; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the one first given by the person in his or her return. In some cases special rules have been followed. Thus a manufacturing trade has always been taken in preference to a selling trade; "Clergyman and Schoolmaster" in combination has always been referred to Schoolmaster.

The numbers given under any heading include Workmen, Assistants, Apprentices and Labourers, as well as Masters, but not Clerks, Porters, Messengers, Errand Boys, nor Watchmen, for which occupations there are special headings; Bank Clerks, Railway Clerks, and Insurance Clerks, however, form exceptions, being classed respectively under the headings "Bank Officials and Clerks," "Railway Officials and Clerks," and "Insurance Service."

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their deceased husbands or fathers, will be found under occupations commonly followed only by men and adults.

Persons returned as "retired" from any profession or business (excepting Army, Navy, Church, Medicine) have not been referred to their previous occupations, but to the special heading "Retired from Business"; inmates of workhouses have been referred to their trades, unless their age or infirmities showed they were past work. But persons who might be supposed to be only temporarily separated from their usual employment, such as Prisoners, and Patients in General Hospitals, have been classed under their stated occupations.

In some cases, for convenience of space, the male designation, e.g., "Schoolmaster" alone is given, instead of "Schoolmaster, Schoolmistress."

RIGHT HON. SIR GEORGE OTTO TREVELYAN, BART., M.P.,
Her Majesty's Secretary for Scotland.

CENSUS OFFICE, EDINBURGH, 13th February 1893.

SIR,

The Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1889, had for its purpose powers to amend the Laws relating to Local Government in Scotland; and for the simplification of certain areas, which was necessary for the proper carrying out of the Act, a Boundary Commission for Scotland was instituted, and was required by Section 49 thereof to frame orders dealing with "Counties, Burghs, and Parishes, and detached parts" of Counties and Parishes, "so that each Burgh and Parish, if the Commissioners shall in the 'whole circumstances of the case deem it necessary or expedient, may be within a single County, and that no part of a County or Parish be detached therefrom."

Boundary Orders carrying these operations into effect came into force, with few exceptions, at dates subsequent to the taking of the Census, and a Return is now presented of the particulars of the parts of the various Parishes affected as at the Census, 1891.

As only a few Orders had been given effect to at the date of the taking of the Census on 5th April, 1891, the Tables in Vol. I. of the Census Report already published were prepared in regard to Parishes as they stood before the operation of the Boundary Commissioners began.

Three Counties (Orkney, Kirkcudbright, and Wigtown) called for no intervention from the Commissioners. Shetland, Caithness, Sutherland, and Bute, while affected in some of their Parochial Boundaries, required no alteration with regard to their County limits. In the case of Linlithgow, while a change was made in its area, there was no alteration in the population.

The Municipal Burgh of Aberdeen still remains situated in more than one County.

Six Parishes which were situated each in more than one County,—viz. Ardnamurchan, Cathcart, Croy & Dalcross, Kilmallie, Kirkliston and Stow,—still remain so; and one, Eastwood, formerly in one County, is now partly in two.

PART I.

In Table I. there is given the Number of Families, Houses, Population, Persons speaking Gaelic only, or Gaelic and English, and Rooms with Windows, in Scotland, and in each County and also in each Civil Parish as existing subsequent to the operation of the Boundary Commissioners' Orders. These Populations will become the basis of future Reports which may be issued in connexion with the present Census.

In Table II. an explanation is given of the difference between the Counties as before, and after, the action of the Boundary Commissioners.

A Boundary Order without a relative note indicates that the part of the Civil Parish dealt with by such Order is to be found in another Registration District.

With regard to the effect which the Orders of the Boundary Commissioners have upon Registration Districts, it should be understood that—in accordance with their view—‘where the Registration District is simply the Parish as defined in Section 8 of the Act of 1854 (17 and 18 Vict. c. 80) any change in the area of the Parish will at the same time be a change in the Registration District. But where the Sheriff has designated a special Registration District under Section 10 of that Act, no Order of the Boundary Commissioners can affect such a District. It is an area with specially defined boundaries, which could be altered by the Commissioners only by a special clause and as incidental to an alteration on Parochial boundaries.’* Therefore, when not so dealt with by the Boundary Commissioners, the boundaries of Registration Districts not conterminat with Civil Parishes should remain undisturbed, with areas unaltered, until delimited anew or reconstituted by the Sheriff or other authority—transfers between Civil Parishes within the respective Registration Districts alone taking place. Registration Districts conterminat with Civil Parishes automatically give and take with like Registration Districts. When, however, a Boundary Order decrees a change between a Civil Parish conterminat with the Registration District and a Civil Parish wholly or partly comprised within a Registration District not conterminat with a Civil Parish, no alteration should take place upon either of these Registration Districts without special authority.

In the case of Cumbræ (B. O. 1), and Grants House (B. O. 18), the Boundary Commissioners have specially annexed for Registration purposes, to the former the Island of Little Cumbræ from Ardrossan Parish, which was a part of the Registration District of West Kilbride, and to the latter a part of Oldhamstocks Parish which they had transferred to Coldingham Parish. It is provided in the case of Caddonfoot (B. O. 57), of Persie (B. O. 72), of Innerwick-in-Glenlyon (B. O. 73), of Kinloch-Rannoch (B. O. 73), of Tenandry (B. O. 73), of Stobhill (B. O. 85), of New Pitsligo (B. O. 116), and of Edgerston (B. O. 123), that nothing in the Boundary Order affecting the relative Civil Parishes shall affect these Registration Districts.

Parochial Boards or others interested in this matter, who desire for public convenience to seek a readjustment of Registration Districts upon the lines of the rearrangement of Civil Parishes by Boundary Order, require to petition the Sheriff of the County and obtain a warrant for any such contemplated alteration.

We have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most faithful Servants,

STAIR AGNEW,

Registrar-General.

CENSUS OF SCOTLAND—1891.

REPORT.

GENERAL INDEX TO VOLUMES 1-10

RIGHT HON. SIR GEORGE OTTO TREVELYAN
BART., M.P.,

Her Majesty's Secretary for Scotland.

CENSUS OFFICE, EDINBURGH,

25th February 1893.

SIR,

We have now the honour to present to you the first portion of Vol. II., containing Abstracts of the Ages of the People, including the Blind, Deaf and Dumb, Deaf, Imbeciles, Lunatics, Inmates of Charitable Institutions, &c., the number of Scholars, 15 years of age and under, in receipt of Education at each year of life, and the Conjugal Condition and Birthplaces of the Inhabitants, in accordance with the provisions of the Act 53 and 54 Vict. cap. 38, entitled 'An Act for taking the Census of Scotland.'

In the present Volume the Abstracts are made for Civil Counties and Parishes, also for Burghs with populations of 10,000 and upwards. In all cases throughout the Volume the Population of the Shipping is included.

Abstracts are drawn up for Civil Counties, Parishes, and Principal Burghs. Summary of four Series of Abstract Tables.

The Series of Abstract Tables in the first portion of Vol. II. may be summarised as follows:—

- XI. Ages of the People in Scotland in 1891, in its Divisions, Counties, Parishes, and Principal Burghs, together with the Ages of the Blind, Deaf and Dumb, Deaf, Imbeciles, Lunatics, Inmates of Charitable Institutions, &c.
- XII. Educational Statistics of Scotland, showing the number of Boys and Girls, and of such as were in the Receipt of Education at each year of life up to the fifteenth year, in the Divisions, Counties, Parishes, and Principal Burghs.
- XIII. Civil or Conjugal Condition of the People in Scotland, in the Divisions, Counties, Parishes, and Principal Burghs.
- XIV. Birthplaces of the People in Scotland, in its Divisions, Counties, and Principal Burghs.

AGES OF THE PEOPLE.

Appendix Table XXI. gives the Population of Scotland as at the Census of 1881 and 1891 in the case of both sexes, at a series of Ages, with the number and the proportion of increase or decrease at each Age, as also the Percentage of either sex alive at each year or quinquennial period at the taking of the latter Census.

The Male Population of Scotland at 1881 numbered 1,799,475, and at 1891 they are 1,942,717—an increase of 143,242, and equivalent to a rate of 8.0 per cent. The Female Population at 1881 numbered 1,936,098, and at 1891 Census 2,082,930—an increase of 146,832, being at the rate of 7.6 per cent. The total increase of Population during the decennium is 290,074, or 7.77 per cent. The Male increase is above that of the Female by 0.4 per cent.

Decrease of Males
different Ages.

When the numbers of those alive at the different ages are compared, it is seen that in the case of the Males there is a decrease during the first four years of life (of 3776 souls), as also at the advanced age of 100 and above; and in the case of the Females there is a decrease for each of the first five years of life (of 4557 souls), as also at ages over 95.

The total number of Males between 0-5 years of age is 254,782, fewer by 3643 than those at the 1881 Census, or 1·4 per cent., and forming 13·115 per cent. of the Males at all Ages on the present occasion. The Females at like age are 247,609, less by 4557, or 1·8 per cent., than at 1881, and forming 11·888 per cent. of the total Females enumerated in 1891.

Increase of Males and Females.

Up to the age of 60 years, and in both sexes, the greatest rate of increase occurs between the ages of 10-20 years, between 30-40 years, and between 45-55 years, being also marked at ages 85-95 years.

There are fewer Females returned at the last Census aged 95 years and upwards than at 1881, when there were 214 between 95-100 years, 36 between 100-105 years, and 4 at ages over this, the numbers for the corresponding ages at 1891 being 202, 28, and 3. At the 1881 Census 17 Males were returned aged between 100-105; at this Census they are 13. None are reported at a greater age.

Relative Proportions of Males
to Females.

At each age up to 20 years the number of Males exceeds that of Females. Between 0-5 years the Males are 254,782, the Females 247,609—the former in excess by 7173; between 5-10 years the Males number 241,726, the Females 235,868—the excess being 5858; between 10-15 years the Males number 229,237, the Females 223,003—a majority of 6234; and between 15-20 years the Males are 210,954, the Females 207,435—the former exceeding the latter by 3519. After this age and to the end of life the Females outnumber the Males at each life-period.

Table XXII. affords for comparison similar information between the Census of 1871 and 1881, and where it is seen that on the former occasion the number of Males exceeds that of the Females up to the age of 15 only, after which the reverse holds good.

Table XXIII. shows the relative proportion of the sexes to one another in every 100 Persons at each age in Scotland, this for the whole country being 48·259 Males to 51·741 Females. It is after the age of 50 years the greatest proportional differences between the sexes occur. This table also indicates that for every 100 Males there are 107·2 Females—a somewhat lower proportion than at 1881, when for every 100 Males there were 107·6 Females.

Table XXIV. gives the proportion of Males and Females in every 100,000 of the Population of Scotland at quinquennial periods at each Census—1861, 1871, 1881, and 1891.

Tables XXXVIII. and XXXIX. give the Population of each sex in Scotland in each of the Eight Divisions and in every County at five series of ages, and also the percentages of the same. Thus of the total 1,942,717 Males throughout the country, 725,745 are under 15 years of age, 936,699 are under 20 years, 561,996 are between 20-40 years of age, 311,496 are between 40-60 years of age, and 132,526 are over 60 years at the taking of the Census; or in every 100,000 of the Male inhabitants, 37,357 were under 15 years of age, 48,216 were under 20 years, 28,928 between 20-40 years, 16,034 between 40-60 years, and 6822 were over 60 years of age.

In the following Counties 50 per cent. or more of the Males were under 20 years of age—Elgin, Banff, Aberdeen, Kincardine, Forfar, Clackmannan, Ayr, and Wigtown, the mean at same age for Scotland being 48·216 per cent.

At ages 20-40 years the average percentage of Males in Scotland is 28·928. The highest ratio at this age occurs in the County of Stirling, 29·606 per cent.; in Renfrew, 29·790 per cent.; in Dumbarton, 30·826 per cent.; in Linlithgow, 31·210 per cent.; in Edinburgh, 31·482 per cent.; and in Lanark, 32·448 per cent.;—the lowest in Elgin, 23·679 per cent.; Kincardine, 23·511 per cent.; Wigtown, 23·386 per cent.; and Banff, 23·373 per cent.

At ages between 40-60 years the mean average proportion of Men in every 100 in Scotland is 16·034, and this ratio does not vary to any great extent in any County, the highest being in Argyll, 18·120 per cent.; and in Sutherland, 19·269 per cent.;—the lowest in Linlithgow, 14·653 per cent.

At ages over 60 years the mean rate per 100 Males in Scotland is 6·822 per cent., and here there are considerable differences in the proportions of old Men throughout the country, varying from the highest in Shetland, with 12·109 per cent. ; Ross and Cromarty, with 12·224 per cent. ; Orkney, with 12·673 per cent. ; Kinross, with 12·753 per cent. ; and Sutherland, with 13·651 per cent. ;—to the lowest in Dumbarton, with 5·468 per cent. ; Renfrew, with 5·424 per cent. ; Linlithgow, with 5·031 per cent. ; and Lanark, with 4·518 per cent.

As to the Female Population (Table XXXIX.), of which 2,082,930 is the total for Scotland, 706,480 are under 15 years of age, 913,915 under 20 years, 622,073 between 20–40 years, 362,822 between 40–60 years, and 184,120 are over 60 years of age ; or in every 100,000 of the Female inhabitants 33,918 were at the date of the Census under 15 years of age, 43,876 were under 20 years, 29,866 were between 20–40 years, 17,419 were between 40–60 years, and 8839 were above 60 years of age. In but one County was there over 50 per cent. of the sex under 20 years of age, viz., Linlithgow, with 50·889 per cent. (the mean for Scotland at this age being 43·876 per cent.) ; the next highest being Clackmannan, with 46·966 per cent. ; Ayr, with 46·894 per cent. ; and Stirling, with 46·776 per cent. ;—the lowest proportions at this age occurring in Orkney, where they constituted 38·880 per cent. of the total Female inhabitants ; in Kinross, 38·457 per cent. ; in Bute, 38·222 per cent. ; Sutherland, 38·162 per cent. ; and Shetland, 33·745 per cent.

Of Women between 20–40 years of age, 29·866 per 100 is the mean ratio for Scotland. The highest proportion occurs in the Counties of Dumbarton and Roxburgh, each with 31·106 per cent. ; Renfrew, with 31·200 per cent. ; Lanark, with 31·449 per cent. ; Peebles, with 32·036 per cent. ; Edinburgh, with 32·420 per cent. ; and Selkirk, with 32·493 per cent. ;—the lowest in Banff, 25·534 per cent. ; Orkney, 25·231 per cent. ; Caithness, 24·999 per cent. ; and Sutherland, 23·502 per cent.

At ages between 40–60 years the greatest proportion of Females is found in Shetland, 21·258 per cent. ; the lowest in Linlithgow, 14·963 per cent. ;—the mean rate for Scotland being 17·419 per cent.

At ages over 60 years the rate varies from 14·981 per cent. in Caithness, 15·555 per cent. in Orkney, 17·555 per cent. in Sutherland, and 17·844 per cent.—the highest—in Shetland ; to 6·921 per cent. in Dumbarton, 6·904 per cent. in Selkirk, 6·870 per cent. in Linlithgow, and 6·172 per cent.—the lowest—in Lanark ;—the mean for Scotland being 8·839 per cent.

Tables XL. and XLI. afford similar information as above in the case of those Burghs in Scotland having populations of 10,000 and upwards, the age-periods being the same.

The total Male Population of the Burghs is 953,905, of which number 351,440 are under 15 years of age, 454,309 under 20 years of age, 297,953 are between 20–40 years of age, 152,886 between 40–60 years of age, and 48,757 are over 60 years ; or 36,842 in every 100,000 of the whole are under 15 years of age, 47,626 under 20 years, 31,235 between 20–40 years, 16,028 between 40–60 years, and 5111 are older than this.

The mean proportion of Boys under 15 years of age in those Burghs is 36·842 per 100 of their total population, most exceeded in Forfar, where the percentage is 41·221, and Peterhead 44·046 ; the lowest occurring in Clydebank, 34·882 per cent., and Edinburgh, 34·615 per cent.

In fourteen of those Burghs 50 per cent. or more of the Male inhabitants are under 20 years of age, the highest rate being found in Dysart, 51·112 per cent. ; Montrose, 51·148 per cent. ; Arbroath, 51·745 per cent. ; Forfar, 52·825 per cent. ; and Peterhead, 55·202 per cent. ;—the lowest occurring in Glasgow, 45·466 per cent. ; Clydebank, 45·301 per cent. ; and in Edinburgh, 45·254 per cent. The mean for the Burghs is 47·626 per cent.

At ages between 20–40 years, while the mean of Males for the total Burghs is 31·235 per cent., the highest rate at this age occurs in Partick, 33·283 per cent. ; in Coatbridge, 34·021 per cent. ; in Motherwell, 34·927 per cent. ; and in Clydebank, 37·705 per cent. ;—the lowest in Arbroath, 24·152 per cent. ; Forfar, 23·001 per cent. ; and Montrose, 22·226 per cent.

Between 40–60 years of age the variation in the different Burghs is inconsiderable ; and while the mean for their total is 16·028 per cent., the highest is seen to be in Greenock, 17·084 per cent. ; and Perth, 17·252 per cent. ;—the lowest in Motherwell, 13·282 per cent. ; and Peterhead, 13·062 per cent.

At ages over 60 years there were for every 100 of their Male population 5·111 old Men living, and the rate varies from Arbroath with 8·384 in like proportion, Forfar with 8·581, and Montrose with 10·442 the highest; to Coatbridge with 3·926, Port-Glasgow with 3·339, Govan with 3·220, Motherwell with 3·135, Kinning Park with 2·891, and Clydebank with 2·768 in every 100.

In the case of the Females, Table XLI. shows their total number in the Burghs to be 1,041,606, of which 346,231 are under 15 years of age, 454,245 are under 20 years of age, 333,107 are between 20–40 years of age, 179,932 between 40–60 years of age, and 74,322 are older than this; or 33,240 in every 100,000 are under 15 years of age, 43,610 are under 20 years of age, 31,981 are between 20–40 years of age, 17,274 are between 40–60 years of age, and 7135 are over 60 years.

At the early age, under 15 years, the mean percentage of Females living in the Burghs collectively is 33·240, varying in the individual Burghs from 41·799 in Clydebank, 42·025 in Coatbridge, 42·837 in Wishaw, and 43·425—the highest—in Motherwell; to 29·736 in Dumfries, and 28·534—the lowest—in Edinburgh.

At Ages under 20 years, the mean is 43·610 per cent., ranging from Airdrie with 50·149 per cent.; Kinning Park, with 50·261 per cent.; Coatbridge, with 50·744 per cent.; Clydebank, with 50·774 per cent.; Wishaw, with 51·849 per cent.; and Motherwell, with 52·566 per cent., the highest; to Montrose, with 39·992 per cent., and Edinburgh, with 39·237 per cent., the lowest.

The mean proportion of Females between 20–40 years to the total Women in the Burghs is 31·981 per cent.; the highest rate occurring in Galashiels, 33·014 per cent.; Hawick, 33·035 per cent.; Partick, 33·112 per cent.; and Edinburgh, 34·175 per cent.; the lowest in Wishaw, 27·555 per cent.; Peterhead, 27·540 per cent.; and Montrose, 26·392 per cent.

Between 40–60 years, of every 100 Females in the Burghs, 17·274 fall within this age, a ratio most exceeded in Arbroath, where they form 19·605 per cent. of all, and Montrose, 20·569 per cent.;—the lowest being in Rutherglen, 14·969 per cent.; Coatbridge, 14·877 per cent.; Wishaw, 14·663 per cent.; Hamilton, 14·583 per cent.; Clydebank, 14·478 per cent.; Airdrie, 14·313 per cent.; and Motherwell, 13·529 per cent.

7·135 per cent. of the Females in the Burghs collectively are over 60 years of age, a proportion most exceeded in Stirling, where they form 9·144 per cent.; Peterhead, 9·159 per cent.; Forfar, 9·489 per cent.; Airdrie, 9·495 per cent.; Dumfries, 9·599 per cent.; Arbroath, 10·019 per cent.; Perth, 10·242 per cent.; Inverness, 10·941 per cent.; and Montrose, 13·047 per cent.; while the lowest occurs in Govan, 4·296 per cent.; Motherwell, 4·269 per cent.; Kinning Park, 3·812 per cent.; and Clydebank, 3·559 per cent.

THE BLIND.

Proportion of
tion.

At the Census the total number of the Inhabitants returned as Blind is 2797, of whom 1417 are Males and 1380 Females. Of the whole, 188 Males and 171 Females were Blind from Childhood, the remainder not so (Section XI. p. 58). The proportion of Blind to the population in Scotland is 1 in every 1439; among the Males alone it is 1 in every 1371, and among the Females 1 in every 1509, or in every 100,000 of the Males 73 are Blind, 66 being the corresponding proportion among the Females.

From Childhood 1 in every 11,213 of the population is Blind, the ratio among 'others' being 1 in every 1651.

At the last Census the total Blind in Scotland numbered 3158, or 1 in every 1182 of the population.

Ages of the Blind

Information as to the Ages of the Blind is found in Section XI. p. 58. As a rule, the number of Blind Males exceeds that of the opposite sex until the age of 60 years is attained, after which the Females outnumber the Males at like ages.

Between birth and 20 years of age the total number of Blind Males is 182 and Females 158; between 20–50 years the Males number 516, the Females 325; and at ages over 50 the Males are 719, the Females 897.

Table XXVI. indicates the proportion of Blind in Scotland in each Division and County. While in Scotland there were 695 Blind persons in every 1,000,000 of the population, the rate in the Divisions varies from 1546 per million in the North Western to 555 in the South Western; being 1328 in the Northern group of Counties, 794 in the South Eastern, 698 in the North Eastern, 660 in the East Midland, 648 in the Southern, and 596 in the West Midland.

Proportion of
Blind to Population in Divisions and Counties.

Among the Counties the rate varies from 1811 per 1,000,000 in Shetland to 112 in Kincardine, the higher rates occurring in Argyll, 1026; in Sutherland, 1233; in Caithness, 1453; in Inverness, 1476; and in Ross and Cromarty, 1626: the lower in Stirling, 424; in Linlithgow, 341; in Selkirk, 258; and in Berwick 186.

The largest number of Blind people are returned in the Counties of Inverness, Forfar, Aberdeen, Edinburgh, and Lanark, those in which large Public Institutions for the treatment and care of those so afflicted are situated.

DEAF AND DUMB.

The number of Deaf and Dumb in Scotland at the date of the Census is 2125—the Males 1195, the Females 930. The number of those Deaf is 741—Males 325, Females 416. Those returned as Deaf from Childhood are 67—the Males 28, the Females 39. Those who have become so at later ages are 674—Males 297, Females 377 (Section XI. p. 58).

The proportion of Deaf and Dumb in Scotland is 1 in every 1894 of the population, that of the Males being 1 in every 1625, and of the Females 1 in every 2240. There is 1 Deaf Person in every 5433 of the inhabitants of Scotland.

Proportion of
Deaf and Dumb
to Population.

At the 1881 Census, the Deaf and Dumb in Scotland numbered 2142, equal to 573 per 1,000,000 of population, while on this occasion the corresponding ratio is 528.

In Section XI. we find the ages at which those so affected are returned. The largest number of Deaf and Dumb occur during the early years of life, and at most ages throughout the Males outnumber the Females. Of the Deaf alone in Scotland, the Females bulk more largely than the Males, there being 325 Males and 416 Females: the same thing occurs with those Deaf from Childhood and 'others.'

Ages of Deaf and Dumb.

Table XXVI. shows how those of the population so affected are distributed throughout Scotland, in which there are 528 Deaf and Dumb and 184 Deaf per 1,000,000 inhabitants. On looking to the Counties, it is seen how the Deaf and Dumb are in largest ratio in Clackmannan, in which there are 634 such sufferers per 1,000,000 of the inhabitants. In Inverness it is 666, in Caithness it is 672, in Sutherland it is 685, in Shetland it is 766, and in Ross and Cromarty it is 864: the smallest proportions appearing in Selkirk, 180; Roxburgh, 168; Kinross, 150; Kincardine, 140; and Peebles, 135 per million: and much the same is seen to be the case with those returned as Deaf alone.

Distribution of
Deaf and Dumb,
and Deaf in the Counties.

INSANE.

There were 10,455 persons returned as being Insane at the Census—4918 Males and 5527 Females; together in the proportion of 1 in every 385 of the inhabitants; the Males alone as 1 in every 395, and the Females 1 in every 377 of the same sex, or at the rate of 2594 Lunatics in every 1,000,000 of the population.

Proportion of Insane to Population.

This shows a considerable increase upon those returned at the 1881 Census, when they were 8406, and in the proportion of 2250 per 1,000,000 of population at that date.

Ages of Insane.

Up to the age of 20 years the Males who are insane number 75 and the Females 59. Between 20–25 years they have increased to 226 of the former and 197 of the latter, and each quinquennial period up to 70–75 is represented by large numbers of both sexes so stricken. Between 20–40 years the Males exceed the Females in number, but after this age the condition is reversed, and the Females outnumber the Males at each period.

At p. 60, the number of the Insane in each County is seen, depending, no doubt, to a great extent on the presence or not of Asylums for the treatment of such.

IMBECILES.

Proportion of Imbeciles to Population.

There are 5017 Persons returned as Imbecile in Scotland—Males 2506, Females 2511—in the proportion of 1 in every 802 of the population, the Males alone being 1 in every 775, and the Females 1 in every 829, or at the rate of 1246 in every 1,000,000 of population.

This is an improvement upon the numbers at the Census of 1881, when they were 5991, and formed 1603 per 1,000,000 as above.

Ages of Imbeciles.

During the first 5 years of life 56 are returned, increased to 252 at the following quinquennial period of life. Between 10–15 years they number 467. Between 15–20 they are 589, their maximum, after which they slowly but gradually decline. Up to the age of 35 the Males outnumber the Females, after this age the reverse holds good.

Location in the Counties.

The location of the Imbeciles in the different Counties, &c., is found on p. 60; and, as with the Lunatics, they are, as a rule, most numerous in those counties which are supplied with Asylums and other Institutions for the special treatment and care of persons so weak minded.

PATIENTS IN INFIRMARIES FOR THE SICK AND BENEFITED INMATES OF CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS IN SCOTLAND.

On the Census day there were 5019 patients in the Infirmarys or Hospitals throughout the Country—Males 2686, Females 2333, i.e., 1 person in every 802 of the population (p. 58).

The number of Benefited Inmates of Charitable Institutions was 19,565—Males 13,532, Females 6033, equal to 1 person in every 206 of the population, or at the rate of 4860 per million (p. 58).

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

There were 4936 soldiers quartered in Barracks and Forts in Scotland at the taking of the Census, and 191 Blue Jackets and Marines, and 7 Females were on board H.M. Ships at the same time. Belonging to the Mercantile Marine there were 7747 Males and 250 Females on board Vessels (p. 59).

EMIGRANTS.

Table XXV. gives, as far as can be done, the number of Emigrants who left Scotland during the last decade from April 1881 to end of March 1891, in all 278,786.

EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS.

Section XII. of Abstracts, p. 62 et seq., affords information regarding the Educational Statistics of Scotland, giving the number of Scholars of both sexes enjoying the advantages of the same at each year of life up to the age of 15 throughout the country, and in the Civil Divisions, Civil Counties, Parishes, and those Burghs having populations of 10,000 and upward. Appendix Tables XLII. and XLIII. give a summary of the same at ages 0–5 years and 5–15 years, with their proportions to the population at the like ages.

The total population of Scotland at the 1891 Census is 4,025,647, of which number 502,391 are under 5 years of age, and 929,834 are between 5–15 years of age. The number of those under 5 years of age in receipt of Education is 14,183, and of those between 5–15 years 746,234, together numbering 760,417; or, of the population under 15 years of age, 53·09 per cent. are scholars, 2·82 per cent. of those under 5 years of age receiving Education, and 80·25 per cent. of those between 5–15 years doing the same.

Of the total Male population of Scotland (1,942,717) at the Census, 725,745 are under 15 years of age; and of these, 385,006 are in receipt of Education. Of these Male Scholars, 7296 are under 5 years of age, and 377,710 are between 5–15 years of age. Of the total Female population of Scotland (2,082,930) at the Census, 706,480 are under 15 years of age; and of these, 375,411 are undergoing tuition. Of these female scholars, 6887 are under 5 years of age, and 368,524 are between 5–15 years of age.

Table XXVII. allows of a comparison being drawn as to the advantage being taken of Education by the inhabitants of Scotland at the present as compared with the previous (1881) Census. It is here seen that in 1881, out of a population 0–5 years of age, the number in receipt of Education is 14,152, but slightly fewer than on the present occasion, and equalling a rate of 2·77 per cent. of the same. The population aged between 5–15 years in 1881 numbered 855,015, of which 675,314, or 78·98 per cent., were at School, or in receipt of knowledge in some other manner; the ratio on the present occasion being the greater one of 80·25 per cent. And again, while, of the total under 15 years of age at the former Census, 50·49 per cent. were in receipt of Education, the ratio at the present is 53·09 per cent.

A fully detailed account of the number of Male and Female Scholars at each age in Scotland, its Divisions and Counties, is to be found at p. 62 et seq. On this occasion no children are returned as being educated in a Scholastic manner during the first two years of life, there being 17 such at the previous Census. Between the age of 2 and 3 years, 89 children have at least commenced their Education, 55 Boys and 34 Girls, and are found to be residing chiefly in the Counties of Aberdeen, Forfar, Lanark, and Edinburgh. Between the 3rd and 4th year, 870 Boys and 923 Girls are at school-work, after which the numbers rapidly and steadily increase until the age of 12 years, when they begin to fall.

Table XLII. is intended to exhibit in a succinct form the number and proportion of Scholars in each Division and County in Scotland at the same ages as before. As just stated, the proportion of those under 15 years of age in receipt of Education to the total population at the same age is for the whole country 53·09 per cent., a rate which is shown in the last column of the Table to vary considerably in different Counties, the highest being found in Ross and Cromarty, 60·37 per cent.; Inverness, 61·11 per cent.; Elgin, 61·78 per cent.; Sutherland, 63·27 per cent.; Caithness, 63·32 per cent.; and Nairn, 64·59 per cent.;—the lowest in Renfrew, 51·28 per cent.; Ayr, 50·92 per cent.; and Lanark, 47·91 per cent.

At ages under 5 years, while the proportion of Scholars in Scotland is 2·82 per cent. of those returned at the same age, it varies, from Clackmannan, with 4·39 per cent.; Kirkcudbright, with 4·50 per cent.; Fife, with 4·52 per cent.; Berwick, with 4·71 per cent.; Forfar, with 4·82 per cent.; Caithness, with 5·22 per cent.; Perth, with 5·67 per cent.; and Elgin, with 6·56 per cent., the highest;—to Nairn, with 1·98 per cent.; Sutherland and Lanark, each with 1·89 per cent.; Peebles, with 1·82 per cent.; Bute, with 1·79 per cent.; Orkney, with 0·89 per cent.; and Shetland, with 0·31 per cent., the lowest.

Between 5–15 years the average percentage of Educational rate in Scotland to the population at the same age is 80·25 per cent. ;—most exceeded in Banff, 88·30 per cent. ; Elgin, 88·78 per cent. ; Ross and Cromarty, 88·94 per cent. ; Inverness, 89·48 per cent. ; Sutherland, 92·26 per cent. ; Caithness, 92·68 per cent. ; and Nairn, 93·54 per cent., the highest ;—at the reverse end of the scale coming Renfrew, 78·59 per cent. ; Forfar, 78·39 per cent. ; Clackmannan, 78·24 per cent. ; Ayr, 77·19 per cent. ; and Lanark, with 75·17 per cent., the lowest rate.

Education in the Burghs.

Tables XXVII. and XLIII. afford similar information in the case of those Burghs with populations of 10,000 and over. On page 116 et seq. the number of Scholars at each year up to age 15 in those Burghs with a population of 10,000 and upwards is given in full detail. The young persons in those Burghs under 15 years of age number 697,671, of whom 250,066 are under 5 years of age, and 447,605 between 5–15 years of age. Of the former, 5993, or 2·40 per cent., are in receipt of Education, and of the latter, 346,352, or 77·38 per cent. ; while of the total, 50·50 per cent. are Scholars. Those Burghs in which the highest percentage of Scholars under 15 years of age are found are Leith, 55·04 per cent. ; Galashiels, 55·25 per cent. ; Perth, 55·44 per cent. ; Greenock, 55·73 per cent. ; Stirling, 55·84 per cent. ; Peterhead, 56·23 per cent. ; Dumfries, 58·30 per cent. ; Montrose, 59·54 per cent. ; and Inverness, 61·87 per cent. ;—the lowest occurring in Kilmarnock, 46·41 per cent. ; Motherwell, 46·33 per cent. ; Coatbridge, 46·22 per cent. ; and Pollokshaws, 45·64 per cent.

The mean proportion of Children under 5 years of age in those Burghs in receipt of Education is 2·40 per cent. ; exceeded in the highest degree in Dundee, with 5·08 per cent. ; Dysart, with 5·16 per cent. ; Stirling, with 5·62 per cent. ; Perth, with 7·06 per cent. ; and Montrose, with 10·78 per cent. ;—the lowest found in Airdrie, with 1·50 per cent. ; Alloa, with 1·34 per cent. ; Kinning Park, with 1·30 per cent. ; and Dumbarton, with 1·14 per cent.

Between 5–15 years the average percentage of those at School, or being otherwise educated in the Burghs, to the population at the same age is 77·38 ; most exceeded in Clydebank, where 83·24 per cent. are in the same position ; Leith, with 83·85 per cent. ; Greenock, with 84·56 per cent. ; Dumfries and Peterhead, each with 84·98 per cent. ; and Inverness, with 90·56 per cent. ;—at the other extreme being Glasgow, with 73·94 per cent. ; Hamilton, with 73·55 per cent. ; Dunfermline, with 72·76 per cent. ; and Pollokshaws, with 72·46 per cent.

CONJUGAL CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE.

Proportion of Persons of different Conjugal condition to the Population.

The total Male Population of Scotland at the date of the Census was 1,942,717, of whom 1,288,880 are Single, 589,820 Married, and 64,017 Widowers ; or of the whole, 66·344 per cent. are Single, 30·361 per cent. Married, and 3·295 per cent. Widowers ;—in other words, in every 100,000 of the Males in Scotland, 66,344 are Bachelors, 30,361 Husbands, and 3295 Widowers.

The total Female Population was 2,082,930, of whom 1,315,184 were Single, 603,573 Married, and 164,173 Widows ; or of the whole, 63·141 per cent. were Single, 28·977 Wives, and 7·882 Widows ;—or, as before, in every 100,000 of the Female Population, 63,141 were Spinsters, 28,977 Wives, and 7882 Widows. (Table XXVIII.)

of age only.

The minimum marriageable age is held to be 15 years, and information as to those above this age is found on Table XXIX., where the total Males above 15 years are seen to number 1,216,972, of whom 563,135 are Single, 589,820 Married, and 64,017 Widowers ; i.e., 46·274 per cent. of them are Single, 48·466 per cent. Married, and 5·260 per cent. Widowers ;—or in every 100,000, there are 46,274 Bachelors, 48,466 Husbands, and 5260 Widowers.

The Females above 15 years of age number in all 1,376,450, of whom 608,704 are Single, 603,573 Married, and 164,173 Widows ; i.e., 44·223 per cent. of the whole are Single, 43·850 per cent. Married, and 11·927 per cent. Widows ;—or in every 100,000, there are 44,223 Spinsters, 43,850 Wives, and 11,927 Widows.

This Table also indicates that the Females in Scotland aged above 15 years are in excess of the Males at the same age by 159,478, or 11·3 per cent., and that 46·3 per cent. of the Males are unmarried; while in the case of the Females, the corresponding percentage is 44·2. In the case of the Widowed, there are 100,156 more Widows in the country than Widowers, the percentage of the Widowers to the total Males over 15 years being 5·3, that of the Widows to the total Females at like age 12·0.

Tables XXX.—XXXV. are computed to give information as to the Conjugal Condition of the Males and Females in Scotland at various age periods.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

The number of Husbands enumerated on the Census-day in Scotland was 589,820, and of Wives 603,573, giving an excess, in the case of the latter, of 13,753, which represents the number of Husbands absent from the country on that same occasion. The percentage of Married Men to the total Male Population is 30·361, and of the Wives to the Female Population 28·977, the corresponding ratios to those over 15 years of age only, being 48·466 per cent. and 43·850 per cent. respectively. (Tables XXVIII. and XXIX.)

Tables XLIV. and XLV. give the number and proportion of Husbands and Wives to the respective totals of each sex at marriageable age for each Division and County of Scotland. The rate varies, that for Scotland being Husbands 48·466 per cent., Wives 43·850 per cent. Thus in every 100 Males above 15 years of age, 40 were Husbands in Inverness; 41 in Argyll; 42 in Sutherland; 44 in Perth; 45 in Nairn, and Bute; 46 in Ross and Cromarty, in Wigtown, and in Caithness; 47 in Dumfries, in Berwick, in Dumbarton, in Linlithgow, and in Kirkcudbright; 48 in Haddington, in Stirling, in Edinburgh, in Peebles, in Aberdeen, and in Kincardine; 49 in Banff, in Roxburgh, in Elgin, and in Lanark; 50 in Renfrew, in Ayr, in Orkney, in Selkirk, in Kinross, and in Clackmannan; 51 in Shetland; 52 in Forfar; 53 in Fife.

Among the Females above 15 years of age (Table LXI.), 34 in every 100 are Wives in Shetland; 35 in Bute; 36 in Inverness; 37 in Sutherland; 38 in Argyll and in Perth; 39 in Ross and Cromarty, in Wigtown, in Dumfries, in Nairn, and in Caithness; 40 in Kirkcudbright, in Peebles, in Berwick, and in Roxburgh; 41 in Forfar, in Orkney, in Selkirk, in Elgin, in Aberdeen, in Kinross, and in Edinburgh; 43 in Haddington and in Banff; 44 in Clackmannan and in Renfrew; 45 in Fife, in Kincardine and in Dumbarton; 47 in Ayr; 48 in Stirling; 49 in Lanark; and 55 in Linlithgow.

Tables XLVI. and XLVII. afford similar information as to the Burghs, where in every 100 Men above 15 years of age, 49·780 are Husbands, a rate varying from the highest, 53 per 100 in Hawick, Arbroath, and Govan; 54 in Dunfermline, Forfar, Rutherglen, and Kinning Park; 55 in Dysart; to 46 in Hamilton and Coatbridge; and 44 in Inverness, the lowest. In 24 Burghs, the rate is over the mean for the whole, while in 13 it is below. In the case of the Females in these Burghs, Table XLVII. shows that in every 100 of the same sex, 44·608 are Wives, a ratio exceeded in some, and the reverse in others. The highest percentage of Wives occurs in Dumbarton, Falkirk, and Airdrie, each with 53; Hamilton, with 54; Kinning Park, Wishaw, and Govan, each with 57; and Motherwell and Clydebank, each with 63;—the lowest percentage being noted in Aberdeen and Forfar, each with 39; Inverness, Montrose, and Dumfries, each with 38; and Edinburgh, with 37. In 20 of the Burghs the rate is over the mean, and in 17 it is below.

Table XXX. shows the number and proportion of Husbands in Scotland, of marriageable age, at three series of ages 15–45 years, 45–65 years, and at 65 years and over. At the early age, 15–45 years, there are 337,199 Husbands, forming 38·747 per cent. of the total Males above 15 years of age; between 45–65 years, they number 204,213 or 77·421 per cent.; and at 65 years and over, they are 48,408, or 58·361 per cent.

In the case of the Females, the same Table shows that between 15–45 years there were 387,336 Wives, or 41·322 per cent. of the total Women over 15 years of age; between 45–65 years they number 184,825, or 57·951 per cent.; and at ages over 65 years, they are 31,412, or 26·144 per cent. The proportions of Husbands and Wives to the total of each sex at marriageable age, it will be noted, do not differ much between 15-45 years of age, being 38·747 per cent. in the case of the former, and 41·322 per cent. in that of the latter; but at the two other selected ages the differences are large, that of the Husbands between 45-65 years being 77·421 per cent., that of the Wives 57·951 per cent.; and at 65 years and over, they are respectively 58·361 per cent. and 26·144 per cent.

Table XXXI. gives, as at last Census (1881), and for sake of comparison, similar information as has just been noted as to Table XXX., and shows there was on that occasion a larger proportion of Husbands at each age, and of Wives between 15-45 years, than at the present Census.

Conjugal condition at quinquennial periods.

Tables XXXII. and XXXIII. indicate the Conjugal Condition of both sexes above 15 years of age in Scotland, giving the number and proportions at quinquennial periods. Thus, of Husbands there are 444 at ages between 15-20 years, equal to 0·075 per cent. of the total Husbands. Such have increased during the quinquennial period 20-25 years to 22,987, and form 3·897 per cent. of the total. The increase goes steadily on until the largest number (85,901) is found at ages 35-40 years, and forming 14·564 per cent. of the total. After this a gradual and regular fall begins, and continues until the end of life. There are 21 Husbands returned as between 95-100 years of age, and 1 over 100 years.

Table XXXIII. deals with the Females in the same manner. There are 2568 Wives between 15-20 years of age, forming 0·425 per cent. of the total Wives. During the following quinquennium they have risen in number to 44,219, and form 7·326 per cent. of the total Wives. They go on increasing until they reach their maximum, between 30-35 years, of 92,881, and form 15·389 per cent. of the total. After this age they gradually fall until there are but 4 between 95-100 years.

BACHELORS AND SPINSTERS.

Out of a total Male population of 1,942,717, there were in Scotland at the Census 1,288,880 Bachelors, being in the proportion of 66·344 per cent. of the total Males; and out of a Female population of 2,082,930, there were 1,315,184 Spinsters, or 63·141 per cent. of the total Females (Table XXVIII.).

When those of marriageable age are alone considered, the single Men number 563,135, or 46·274 per cent. of the Males above 15 years of age, while the Females in like position are 608,704, or 44·223 per cent. of those of similar age. The proportion of single Men to single Women is, for every 100 of the former 108 of the latter (Table XXIX.).

Number and proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters.

Table XXX. gives the number and proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters in Scotland above 15 years of age at three series of ages. At the first of these, 15-45 years, there are in the case of the Males 521,214 Bachelors, and forming 59·892 per cent. of the total Males at the same age; between 45-65 years, the unmarried Men number 33,255, and form 12·608 per cent. of all at like age; while at ages over 65, they are 8666 in number, or 10·448 per cent., as before.

In the case of the Females, the Spinsters between 15-45 years number 525,679, equal to 56·080 per cent. of all at same age; between 45-65 years, they are 59,480 in number, or 18·650 per cent. of those at same age; and at 65 and over, they are 23,545, or 19·596 per cent. Table XXXI. gives similar information as at the Census of 1881, when there was a smaller proportion of both Bachelors and Spinsters between 15-45 years of age than at the present Census.

Number and proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters in different Counties.

Tables XXXII. and XXXIII. show the number and proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters in Scotland at quinquennial series of ages. At the Census, the Males for the first two periods, 15-25 years, exceed the number of Females by 11,675; but at every period after, the Females are in excess of the Males.

While the rate for Bachelors in all Scotland to the Male population above 15 years of age is 46·274 per cent., it varies in the different Counties. The highest rate (Table XLIV.) occurs in Perth, Dumbarton, and Bute, where in every 100 Males 49 are Bachelors; in Nairn, the number is 50; in Sutherland, it is 52; in Argyll, it is 53; and in Inverness, it is highest—55; the lowest being 43 in Shetland, Forfar, and Kinross, and 41 in Fife. In 19 Counties the rate is over the mean for Scotland, and in 13 it is below.

In the case of the Females (Table XLV.), while the mean of Spinsters for Scotland is 44·223 per cent., the highest rates per 100 of the same sex are in Perth, Bute, and Roxburgh, each with 50; Sutherland, Inverness, and Peebles, each with 51; the lowest in Stirling, 40; Lanark, 39; Linlithgow, 34; and Shetland, 33. In 24 Counties the rate was above the mean, and in 9 it was below.

Corresponding information as to the Burghs is found on Tables XLVI. and XLVII., in the former of which, dealing with Males, the rate for Bachelors in Scotland to the Male population over 15 years of age is stated to be 45·227 per cent. This varies again in the different Burghs from 49 per 100 in Coatbridge, 50 in Clydebank and Hamilton, and 52 in Inverness—the highest—to 41 in Rutherglen, Arbroath, Montrose, and Kinning Park, and 39—the lowest—in Forfar and Dysart. In 11 Burghs the rate is over the mean for the whole, and in 26 it is below.

Among the Females (Table XLVII.), the Spinsters, with a mean for Scotland of 43·131 per cent., vary from 48 per 100 in Aberdeen, Dumfries, Dunfermline, Galashiels, Hawick, and Inverness, and 49 in Forfar—the highest—to 32 in Kinning Park, 31 in Wishaw, and 28 in Motherwell, the lowest. In 16 Burghs the rate was over the mean for the whole, and in 21 it was below.

WIDOWERS AND WIDOWS.

The number of Widowers in Scotland at the Census was 64,017, and of Widows 164,173; i.e., in every 100 of the total respective sexes there were 3·295 Widowers and 7·882 Widows, or considering the marriageable population only (above 15 years of age), the ratios are 5·260 and 11·927 (Tables XXVIII. and XXIX.). For every 100 Widowers in Scotland there were 256 Widows.

Table XXX. gives the number and proportion of Widowers and Widows above 15 years of age at three series of ages. Of the former, at age 15–45 years, there are 11,844 in Scotland, equal to 1·361 per cent. of the Males at that age; between 45–65 years they number 26,302, or 9·971 per cent.; and at ages over 65 years they are 25,871, or 31·191 per cent. of the Men at like age.

Of the Females above 15 years of age, there are 24,353 Widows aged 15–45 years, equal to 2·598 per cent. of the sex at like age; between 45–65 years they number 74,626, or 23·399 per cent.; and at a greater age they are 65,194, or 54·260 per cent.

Table XXXI. gives corresponding information to Table XXX. for 1881 Census, in which it is seen that there was then a larger proportion of Widowers between 15–45 years of age, and of Widows at the same age, as also of Widows between 45–65 years, than at the present Census.

Tables XXXII. and XXXIII. show the number and proportion of Widowers and Widows in Scotland at quinquennial ages. Between 15–20 years there are 8 Widowers and 12 Widows, the numbers increasing rapidly at each period, until the Widowers attain their maximum of 8132 between 60–65 years, and then form 12·703 per cent. of the total Widowers; the Widows attaining their highest number (23,387) between 60–65 years, when they form 14·246 per cent. of the total Widows.

In the Counties, the varying proportions of Widowers is found on Table XLIV. The mean for Scotland is 5·260 per cent. of the Males of 15 years and upwards. The ratios in the Counties vary, the highest occurring in Kirkcudbright, 6·534 per cent.; Wigtown, 6·629 per cent.; and Dumfries, 6·757 per cent.;—the lowest in Linlithgow, 4·835 per cent.; Lanark, 4·823 per cent.; and Dumbarton, 4·642 per cent. In 25 Counties the rate is above that for Scotland, and in 8 it is below it.

In the case of the Widows, Table XLV., which gives the mean for Scotland as 11·927 per cent. of the Women over 15 years, indicates the highest ratio to occur in Ross and Cromarty, 13·087 per cent.; Argyll, 13·770 per cent.; and Bute, 15·185 per cent.;—the lowest in Roxburgh, 10·083 per cent.; Selkirk, 9·975 per cent.; and Peebles, 9·487 per cent. In 18 Counties the rate is above that for Scotland, and in 15 it is below the same.

In the Burghs, the Widowers form a mean rate of 4·993 per cent. of the Men above 15 years of age, the highest proportion occurring in Perth, 6·032 per cent.; Arbroath, 6·194 per cent.; Dumfries, 6·269 per cent.; Montrose, 6·755 per cent. ; Forfar, 6·817 per cent. ; and Airdrie, 7·727 per cent. ;—the lowest in Hamilton, 3·944 per cent. ; Partick, 3·661 per cent. ; and Clydebank, 3·133 per cent. In 21 of the Burghs the rate is higher than the mean for them conjointly, and in 16 it is below the same (Table XLVI.).

Similar information as to the Widows is found on Table XLVII., where the mean for the total Burghs is 12·261 per cent., exceeded in the highest degree in Arbroath, with 13·642 per cent. ; Dumfries, with 13·691 per cent. ; Inverness, with 13·701 per cent. ; Pollokshaws, with 15·021 per cent. ; and Montrose, with 15·326 per cent. ;—the lowest ratios being in Hamilton, 9·041 per cent. ; Motherwell, 8·946 per cent. ; Govan, 8·732 per cent. ; Partick, 8·530 per cent. ; and Clydebank, 7·748 per cent. In 20 of the Burghs the rate is over that for the whole conjointly, and in 17 it is below it.

BIRTHPLACES.

Nationalities of the Inhabitants of Scotland.

3,688,700 of the total population of Scotland (4,025,647), as enumerated on the Census day, were Scotch born, and formed 91·630 per cent. of the whole. 108,736, or 2·701 per cent., were born in England ; 194,807, or 4·839 per cent., were born in Ireland ; 2309, or 0·057 per cent., were born in Wales ; 927, or 0·023 per cent., were born in the Channel Islands ; 13,607, or 0·388 per cent., were born in one or other of the British Colonies ; 8051, or 0·200 per cent., were British subjects born abroad or at sea ; and 8510, or 0·212 per cent., were of Foreign birth. In other words, in every 100,000 of the inhabitants, 91,630 were Scotch, 2701 were English, 4839 were Irish, 57 were Welsh, 23 were Channel Islanders, 338 were Colonials, 200 were British subjects born abroad or at sea, and 212 were Foreigners (Table XXXVI.).

As to the Burghs, Table XXXVII. indicates how of the total population of those whose inhabitants number 10,000 or over, in all a population of 1,995,511, the Scotch born amount to 1,770,028, and equivalent to 88·700 per cent. of the whole ; the Irish born are 135,828, equal to 6·807 per cent. of all. Those of English birth are 67,949, or in the ratio of 3·405 per cent. ; while British Colonials number 8671, or 0·435 per cent. Foreigners are 6078, or 0·305 per cent. British subjects born abroad or at sea amount to 5028, or 0·252 per cent. Welsh Men and Women number 1362, and those born in the Channel Islands 567.

English and Irish to the Population in the Counties.

For further information as to the residence of those born in the various Countries, see Tables XLVIII. and XLIX., where in the Counties it is found that those of English birth bulk most largely in the South Eastern and Southern Divisions, viz., Haddington with 3·007 per cent., Kirkeudbright with 3·911 per cent., Edinburgh with 4·720 per cent., Roxburgh with 5·303 per cent., Dumfries with 5·327 per cent., and Berwick with 5·816 per cent. As one goes northwards these ratios fall, there not being more than 1·0 per cent. in the most Northern Counties.

Those of Irish birth are most numerous in the West and Midland Divisions, the largest proportion of them occurring in the Counties of Stirling, 3·390 per cent. ; Ayr, 4·892 per cent. ; Linlithgow, 6·904 per cent. ; Lanark, 9·754 per cent. ; Dumbarton, 10·044 per cent. ; and Renfrew, 10·688 per cent. They are also fewest in the Northern Division, but 0·089 per cent. living in Caithness, and 0·042 per cent. in Shetland.

British Colonial born subjects come next in number, and apparently prefer to reside in the Counties of Edinburgh, where 0·755 per cent. do so ; Bute, 0·484 per cent. ; Clackmannan, 0·441 per cent. ; Elgin, 0·435 per cent. ; and Peebles, 0·373 per cent. In the County of Edinburgh a larger proportion of British subjects born abroad or at sea, and of Foreigners, have taken up their abode than in any other in Scotland.

Similar information as to the Principal Towns of Glasgow, Edinburgh, Dundee, Aberdeen, Leith, Paisley, Greenock, and Perth is found in the same tables.

Thus the largest proportion of English born reside in Edinburgh and Leith, of Irish in Greenock and Glasgow, of British Colonials in Edinburgh and Aberdeen, of British subjects born abroad or at sea in Edinburgh and Leith, as also with Foreigners.

In the case of the Burghs with 10,000 of a population or over, Tables L. and LI. show the mean percentage of English born residing therein to be 3·405, a ratio most exceeded in the Towns of Leith with 4·313 per cent., Hawick with 4·858 per cent., Edinburgh with 5·032 per cent., Dumfries with 6·346 per cent., and Motherwell with 7·140 per cent.; the reverse holding good in Pollokshaws with 1·261 per cent., Peterhead with 1·227 per cent., Airdrie with 1·124 per cent., and Forfar with 0·763 per cent. The Irish born, of whom the mean percentage in the total Burghs is 6·807, are most in evidence in Clydebank, 12·323 per cent.; in Motherwell, 12·448 per cent.; in Pollokshaws, 13·424 per cent.; in Rutherglen, 13·651 per cent.; in Partick, 14·068 per cent.; in Dumbarton, 15·206 per cent.; in Coatbridge, 15·626 per cent.; and in Port-Glasgow, 22·840 per cent. Least so in Dysart, 0·366 per cent.; in Peterhead, 0·286 per cent.; and in Forfar, 0·257 per cent.

Proportion of English and Irish to the Population in the Burghs.

British Colonial born are next most numerous, and are in largest proportion in Inverness with 0·611 per cent., Stirling with 0·632 per cent., and Edinburgh with 1·000 per cent.; and Foreigners are the same in Alloa with 0·697 per cent., and in Leith 1·285 per cent. Of the 8510 Foreigners we would remark that 1883 of them formed the crews of 237 Foreign vessels which fell to be enumerated upon the Census day, besides which should be noted 231 Emigrants (Males 167, Females 64), who were included in the Leith returns, as they happened to be there on the same occasion. Deducting those figures 2114 from the 8510, we have 6396 as the true number of Foreigners resident in Scotland, and equal to 159 per 100,000 of the population.

Foreigners.

Tables L. and LI. exhibit the number and proportion of those inhabitants of the Burghs with 10,000 of a population and upwards, who were born in or out of the County in which each Burgh is situated, and Tables XLVIII. and XLIX. give information of a similar character for eight Principal Towns, viz., Glasgow, Edinburgh, Dundee, Aberdeen, Leith, Paisley, Greenock, and Perth.

For further information regarding the Birthplaces of the Inhabitants of Scotland, its Divisions and Counties, see Section XIV., commencing at p. 278, or for a Burgh with a population of 10,000 or upwards, see p. 315. Take, for instance, the County of Nairn, where it is found that 5239 of its total population of 9155 were born in that County. No resident in Nairn was of Shetland birth; 7 came from Orkney, 29 from Caithness, 45 from Sutherland, 561 from Ross and Cromarty, 1502 from Inverness, 805 from Elgin, 135 from Banff, 205 from Aberdeen, 6 from Kincardine, 41 from Forfar, 53 from Perth, 29 from Fife, 9 from Kinross, none from Clackmannan, 17 from Stirling, 12 from Dumbarton, 22 from Argyll, 3 from Bute, 14 from Renfrew, 13 from Ayr, 68 from Lanark, 1 from Linlithgow, 79 from Edinburgh, 14 from Haddington, 3 from Berwick, 4 from Peebles, 1 from Selkirk, 18 from Roxburgh, 16 from Dumfries, none from Kirkcudbright, 7 from Wigtown. 122 of those returned in Nairn were born in England, 6 in Wales, 20 in Ireland, 1 in the Channel Islands, 26 were born in one or other of the British Colonies, 13 were British subjects born in Foreign Parts, there was 1 Foreigner, and in 7 cases the place of Birth was not stated in the Schedules.

Further information regarding the movements of the population may be obtained from the same Section XIV. Take, for example, the Counties of Caithness and Fife, and it may be readily found that in the case of the former there are 5136 Males and 6379 Females born in Caithness; but at the date of the Census, living in other parts of the country, and in that of the latter, 25,287 and 26,334 of the respective sexes born in Fife have left that County for other parts of Scotland to better themselves, or for other reasons.

The last part of the Section deals with the distribution of those born in other lands, and who are residing in Scotland.

For the Ages of Foreigners in Scotland, see p. 57, and for the Conjugal Condition, p. 273.

In making up the Abstracts contained in this volume, effect has been given to the changes made upon Civil Parishes and Counties by the operation of the Boundary Orders as explained in the Supplement to the first volume, so that all populations here given are for these as they now stand. We are at present engaged upon the final part of the Census, that dealing with the occupations of the people, which will be laid before Parliament, and published as speedily as circumstances will allow.

We have the honour to be,
